New Salem Town Facts

In 1693 a year after the Salem Witch Trials ended the real witches left and moved to an island in New England. These original families founded the Town of New Salem. The name Salem was common in Colonial times and comes from the name Jerusalem. In the 300 years since settling in New Salem the original families intermingled to keep their blood pure.

Today's coven consists of the direct decedents of the original families. The human outsiders living in New Salem are descended from the original families hired help, or from drifters that came to the island and were allowed to settle there.

The houses on Crowhaven Road belonged to the original coven. The witches of New Salem still occupy the houses today. The homes on Crowhaven Road are mostly in poor condition due to their age with a few exceptions. The current living arrangements are as follows:

The Girl's Celebration Ritual on The Night of Hecate

The Night of Hecate celebrates all of the phases in a woman's life, Maiden, Mother and Crone, making it a perfect night for the girl's ritual. Each takes a candle and lights it saying a virtue or aspect of womanhood that they'd like to celebrate. The candle is then set in the center of the circle. Each girl's candle once set in the center creates a circle of candles. The white and last candle goes in the center of candles. The girls then show the candles to the elements and get their blessing. The ceremony is to celebrate and affirm what girls are.

No lover bind
No harvest reap
No repose take
No hunger feed
No thirst slake
No sorrow speed
No debt pay
Rue the day
You wronged me.*

Cassie's Initiation

*Diana calls down the Powers.
Earth and Water, Fire and Air,
See your daughter standing there,
By dark of moon and light of sun,

By challenge, trial and sacred vow,
Let her join the circle now.
Flesh and sinew, blood and bone,
Cassie now becomes our own.*
